Silvia Dubois is an internationally recognized artist, particularly active in the Mail Art movement, which emphasizes artistic exchange through postal networks. She has been exhibited extensively across Germany, Italy, Japan, and beyond, contributing to the global dialogue of artistic collaboration. Her first verified exhibition, Collage & Collaboration - International Mail Art Exhibition, took place at Flughafen Tempelhof in Berlin (2021), marking the beginning of her public artistic journey. Since then, she has participated in numerous group exhibitions, including International Mail Art Exhibition: Love at White Sanctum Art Gallery in Bengaluru, India (2023). Over the past two years, Dubois has been featured in five group exhibitions and one biennial, demonstrating her increasing presence in the art world. Among her most notable shows was the Echigo-Tsumari Art Triennale 2022: Connecting the World at Echigo-Tsumari Art Triennial Secretariat in Niigata-ken, Japan. She has also exhibited at Selçuk Üniversitesi in Selçuklu, Konya, Turkey, and White Sanctum Art Gallery in Bengaluru, India, further expanding her artistic reach. Throughout her career, she has shared exhibition spaces with renowned artists such as Horst Tress and Susanne Schumacher. Dubois continues to explore themes of memory, nature, and human interconnectedness, making her an influential figure in contemporary international Mail Art.

Simon Warren

Simon Warren is a UK-based artist and photographer known for capturing urban life and cycling culture. His work focuses on people sitting, standing, or riding bicycles, often documenting cyclists on their favorite London roads. For the past four years, Warren has been working on his forthcoming book, London Wheels, which showcases his passion for cycling and photography. In addition to his photography, Warren has contributed to the Mail Art movement, creating visual poetry and storytelling pieces that reflect themes of solitude and city life. His artistic approach blends documentary-style photography with conceptual narratives, making his work both engaging and thought-provoking.

Sinem Ünal Gedan

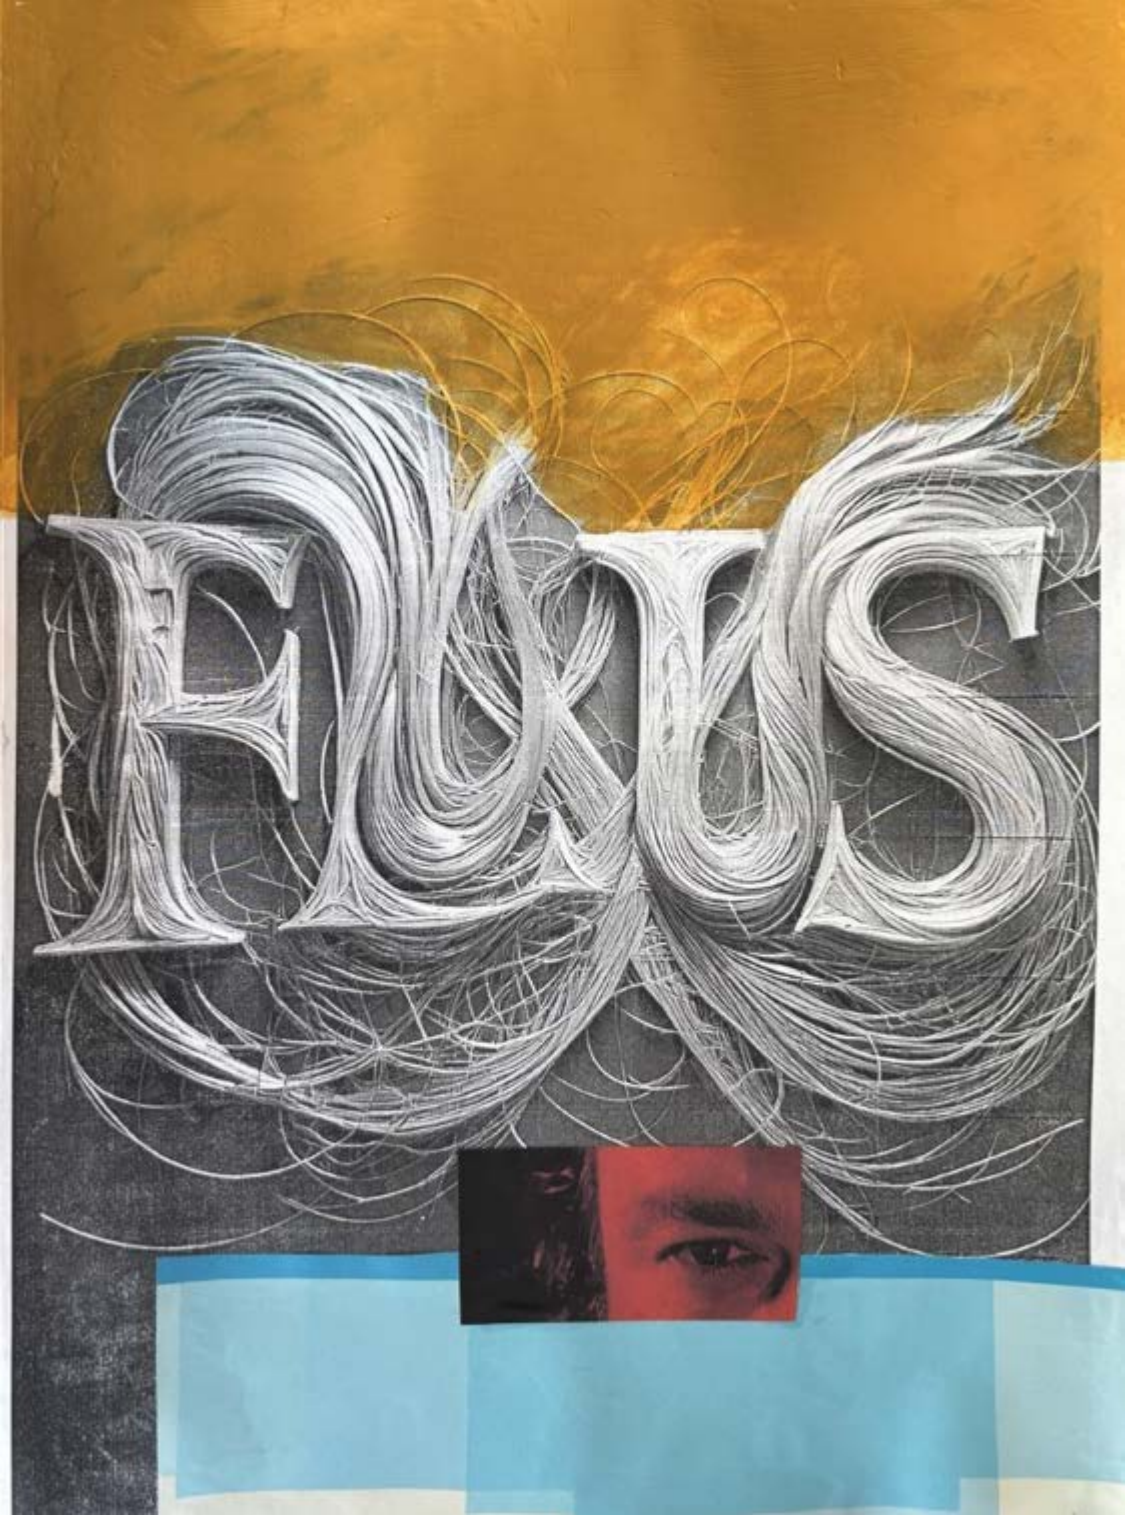

Sinem Ünal Gerdan is a Turkish artist, designer, and academic, specializing in visual communication, typography, and digital art. She completed her bachelor's degree in Visual Communication Design at Işık University, followed by a master's degree in Interactive Media Design at Yıldız Technical University. Currently, she is pursuing a PhD in Art and Design at Yıldız Technical University, where she also works as a research assistant. Her artistic practice explores themes of sustainability, digital transformation, and social interaction, often incorporating photo collage techniques to create layered narratives. Gerdan has participated in international Erasmus projects, collaborating with artists from diverse cultural backgrounds. Her most recent exhibition, "Uzak" (Far Away), opened at İşlik Art Gallery in December 2024, inviting viewers to reflect on personal journeys and inner landscapes

Snappy

Snappy: A Distinctive Presence in Contemporary Art. Hailing from Victoria, Canada, Snappy has made a significant impact in the international art scene through a steady presence in group exhibitions over the last 15 years. Since Snappy's first verified exhibition, 12th Annual Postcards from the Edge at ZieherSmith in New York City (2010), their work has continued to gain recognition across Germany, the Netherlands, and the United States. Although Snappy has not hosted a solo exhibition, they have participated in 30 group shows, including a notable presence at the 24th Annual Postcards From the Edge, organized by Visual Aids in New York City (2022). Another standout event was the Echigo-Tsumari Art Triennial in Niigata-ken, Japan, reinforcing their involvement in significant contemporary art movements. Snappy's most recent exhibition, Vamos A Jogo, was held at Quinta da Cruz - Centro de Arte Contemporânea in Viseu (2025), marking another milestone in their evolving career. Over the years, Snappy has exhibited alongside artists such as Roberto Scala and Lars Schumacher, further cementing their artistic influence.
